

Hello, my name is <dr name>, I'm a chiropractor in <city>. (I am trying to establish an open line of communication with your office.) Since we share several patients with your office I thought I'd come by to meet you.

I'd also like to drop this package off for Dr (Smith) to look over. It's some information about what I do to help people and how I'm different from other chiropractors.

We don't keep patients coming for life, we simply get the job done and provide your office with the objective documentation you need.

I'd welcome the opportunity to bring in lunch and meet your staff. What day would work best for you?
